And What Have You

By BOB CRAIG

Every city in the nation is looking and hoping for more industry and the cities of this part of West Texas known as the Rolling Plains are no exceptions. But for the foreseeable future agriculture is still going to be the principle income for this area. And because of this a great deal of effort needs to be spent in improving the agricultural economy of this area.

As a step in this direction, 132 men prominent in area agriculture, education, industry and government assembled in Monday to hear the findings of a study which was initiated last September by Texas A&M University.

These men heard of the real possibilities of increasing farm and ranch income $209 million annually in the 28 counties comprising the Rolling Plains. Objectives of the study were as follows:

1. To evaluate the amount and use of agricultural resources in the 28 counties.
2. To identify agricultural problems and potentials in the 28 counties.
3. To develop guidelines for the production and management of each economic enterprise on farms and ranches in the 28 counties.
4. To develop suggested plans of action whereby the guidelines and recommendations can be utilized to increase the efficient use of all resources, thereby increasing net farm income in the 28 counties.

The man who conducted the long study was Norman W. Brints of Vernon, area farm management specialist with the Texas A&M Agricultural Extension Service.

The Rolling Plains Program is similar to those programs which have already been prepared for other areas of the state: Blacklands, East Texas, Panhandle, South Plains.

(For example, in the Blacklands, where the blackland income growth program is now in its sixth year, farm income in 18 selected counties last year was up $53,894,000 above that of 1965. In Collin County alone, farm income in 1965 was $18 million. B. I. G. is credited with the $25 million income in Collin last year.)

In his report Thursday to the area leaders, Brints defined the sources of the potential increase as follows:

- Increased use of rainfall on cultivated acres for crop and livestock production (by reducing runoff, evaporation, undesirable plants): $25 million.
  - Timely and accurate application of irrigation water on 130,000 acres so that the value of agricultural production might be increased: $15 million.
  - Expanded use of latest technology, brush control and deferred grazing in beef production: $10 million.
  - Adoption of the best known crop yields, improving quality and reducing costs: $30 million.
  - Improved farm organizations for maximum use of land, labor, capital and management: $7 million.
  - Increased processing and manufacturing of agricultural products in the 28 counties: $120 million.
  - Effective planning of estates and management of income tax: $7 million.
  - Development of commercial outdoor recreation such as hunting, camping, and fishing: $3 million.
  - Increased production of cattle, swine and sheep on crop farms: $6 million.
- Counties covered by the report: Archer, Baylor, Callahan, Clay, Coleman, Cottle, Dickens, Fisher, Foard, Hardeman, Haskell, Jones, Kent, King, Knox, Mitchell, Motley, Nolan, Runnels, Scurry, Shackelford, Stephens, Stonewall, Taylor, Throckmorton, Wichita, Wilbarger and Young.
- The wife and I and our oldest son, Darrell, spent this past weekend down on the Gulf Coast at Port Aransas trying to get in a little fishing between rains. We were there three days and it rained two of them so the fishing was a little short. But after seeing how dry it is down there it was a easy to see that they needed the rain a whole lot more than we needed the fish.
- It looks like everything from the Hill Country on South is really burning up.

School Equalization Board Hearing Dates Set

Dates for the Board of Equalization hearing for the Hamlin Independent School District have been set with the Board to meet August 9 and 10 in the High School Superintendent's office.

Cards are being mailed to all property tax-payers in the school district indicating the new valuations.

Taxpayers desiring to discuss their valuations with the board will be registered when they arrive at the high school and will be heard by the board in that order. It will be necessary to limit each taxpayer to five minutes in order to give all persons requesting a hearing an opportunity to meet with the board.

Serving on the equalization board are Weldon Johnson,

Noel Weaver and Leldon Clifton.

Supt. C. F. Cook said this week, "that there was a need to raise more money to operate our schools and the only fair way was to equalize all taxes in the district so that each taxpayer would pay

MRS. R. B. DICKSON
... to teach history his or her share. Therefore, the re-evaluation program was selected by the Board of Education. This re-evaluation is being done by professional people that are qualified in this field. The Equalization Board is composed of local people serving to correct any discrepancy that might exist."

Mr. Cook went on to say, "It will be appreciated very much if all taxpayers meeting with this board will realize that these people are giving of their time to serve their community and are not trying to impose on anyone."

Mr. Cook suggested that taxpayers should make a thorough study of each property when they receive their card describing the property and the values assigned. If more information is needed taxpayers are urged to contact Haskell Carter, Tax Assessor and Collector for the district.

STATE Capital NEWS

By VERN SANFORD

AUSTIN, — Newspaper readers throughout Texas soon will be seeing long columns of type about important issues as Secretary of State John Hill begins to advertise the six proposed constitutional amendments to be voted on November 11.

Fourteen additional amendments will be on the 1968 ballot.

Eight of the 20 amendments are of interest mainly to special groups (eg: legislators or state employees). Eight others would provide local governments with new powers or duties. Only four of the group directly affect most Texans.

Amendments to be voted on this year will appear on the ballot in this order:

No. 1, House Joint Resolution 3, to permit counties to put all tax money in a single general fund rather than dividing income in specified amounts among separate funds for earmarked purposes as is now required.

No. 2, HJR 37, allowing cities and other governmental units within hospital districts to levy taxes for participation in mental health and mental retardation community centers.

No. 3, HJR 17, reviving the veterans land program and authorizing a total of $400,000,000 in bonds to finance continued purchases of farm and ranch land by veterans, including those who have served in Southeast Asia during present hostilities.

No. 4, HJR 6, authorizing counties to pay medical, doctor and hospital bills of county law enforcement officers injured in line of duty.

No. 5, HJR 12, authorizing a $75,000,000 state revenue bond issue for the development of state parks and recreational areas. Bonds are expected to be financed by a small admission fee.

No. 6, HJR 27, permitting state officers and employees to hold non-elective positions under the state or U. S. governments where there is no conflict of interest and where the state might benefit.

Top interest in these amendments doubtless will center on the park bond proposal and the veterans land amendment.

Hospital mental health and mental retardation groups will emphasize the importance of Amendment No. 2 to the new community center approach of treating mental patients close to home.

Calling the 1967 election for Veterans Day and a Saturday, undoubtedly, was to assure a large voter turn-out for the land fund amendment. A substantial campaign to urge its passage already is taking form.

Gov. John Connally is the principal backer of the parks bond issue. Last December he unveiled a 10-year plan for acquiring and developing 150,960 acres of recreational lands and historical sites. This would more than triple present state park acreage and open a variety of new facilities for outdoor recreation.

Only opposition to the amendment to date has been based on the $1 a car park-entry fee, initially proposed by Connally to finance the vast program; and scattered complaints that facilities included in the governor's master plan do not adequately serve some areas of the state.

He is expected to spearhead an intensive fall campaign — supported by parks, recreational and outdoor groups — to put over the bond issue.

The veterans land amendment would add another $200,000,000 to state bonds previously authorized and through which 35,300 veterans have purchased farm and ranch properties at low interest rates spread over a 40-year pay period.

This amendment would raise the amount which could be borrowed under the program from $7500 to $10,000. The program was initiated in 1949. Additional bonds were approved by voters in 1951 and 1956. Amendments to enlarge the bond authorization were rejected at elections in 1963 and 1965. Opposition came mainly from Dallas and Houston.

Proponents emphasize that, while thousands of veterans have benefited from the program, it has cost the state no money and actually has turned a profit of $2,500,000 a year while providing an expanded land market.

Opposition has adopted the argument that it is not the function of the state government to engage in the loan business and that veterans have had plenty of time to participate. Some also contend that "cheap money" invites purchases of land not needed and which will not be put to productive use.

Amendment No. 2 specifies that the legislature, in providing for creation of hospital districts, does not have to require that the districts assume full responsibility for community mental health and retardation center and services. It would permit cities and counties to levy taxes and issue bonds for such services. Subdivisions within existing districts would be authorized to do so unless statutes creating the districts expressly prohibit.

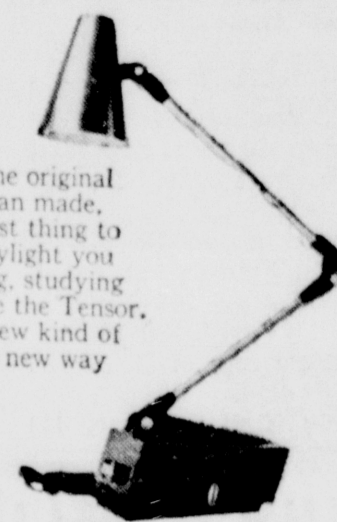

An attorney general's opinion held that the constitution does not allow political subdivisions within the boundary of a hospital district to levy taxes for medical and hospital service. Under that ruling, cities and counties located in such districts were restricted from participating in establishment of community health centers. Therefore, only hospital districts could establish such centers, a key part of the mental health program.

Amendments No. 3, 4, and 5 are self explanatory and apparently non-controversial. Amendment No. 6 is aimed primarily at permitting educators, who are paid from state funds, to serve on federal advisory boards.

THUMB

GREEN THUMB... is the way of describing those that have a way with plant life. The ones, who are so gifted, will tell you that to be successful with plants, you must see that they have plenty of water. God knows too, that a soul must be watered in order for it to mature and grow.

"...and thou shalt be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters fail not." Isaiah 58:11

Neinda Philosopher Talks About Fishing

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Route 1 discusses fishing this week, we suppose.

Dear editor:

I was fishing the other afternoon and thought I'd hooked a good one, even when it broke the surface glinting in the sunshine. Looked like at least a three-pound gas-pergou, but when I got it to the bank I discovered it was only a copy of The Reporter News and I lost my bait besides. There are days like that.

I re-baited and let the paper dry out and looked it over and ran into an article that made me forget all about my cork.

According to it, science is moving in on fishing. It's working on a system where you ride along in a boat, locate a school of fish by radar, then pull them in with a vacuum-cleaner-type suction pipe. In thirty minutes a man can have a boat full and be back on the job on his tractor or in his office or wherever he works.

I estimate this will save 15 million man-hours of fishing a year, and it got me to thinking of other areas.

Take golf. As I understand it, from what I've seen on television when no western was on, the object of the game is to sink a ball in a minimum number of strokes.

Miscellaneous Q

Ladybugs for insect control in cotton, feed, melons.
 Poters Locker, Rotan.

but like it is you drive the ball through the air and when it lands it bounces around no telling where. Why not connect the holes up with pipes on the ground and drive through them, making a hole-in-one at every green and thus saving maybe 50 million man-hours of golf a year?

Or dominoes. Why put dots on just one side? Put them on both and a game could be played in 30 seconds. The same could be done with bridge cards, although I haven't worked out anything yet with checkers. Baseball? Magnetize the ball and the outfielders' gloves and finish a game in 30 minutes with 27 flies caught by both sides. All games would end in a tie, the national standings would always be the same and the newspapers would never have to re-set any type.

By failing to utilize science in all games and sports, I
 wasting 14 billion man-hours a year, delaying the average man's entry into a rest home by 15 or 20 years. I turn the problem over to Congress.

After finishing reading the paper, I resumed fishing and

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin, — Texas Railroad Commission has turned up the oil allowable to a record high 48 per cent of potential — retroactive to July 1 — to meet demands created by the Middle East shoot-out. Commission's extraordinary mid-month emergency order was the third of the kind since the Arabian oil cutoff. It boosted the allowable to 3,830,560 barrels a day — higher than during latter part of the 1957 Suez oil crisis and probably the highest since wide-open production days of 1948 when producers were encouraged to build up war-drained crude supplies.

New Increase adds 131,000 barrels a day to July allowable, which was raised to 42.9 per cent on the first of the month. Major purchasers told the Commission added production was necessary.

Allowable was 33.8 per cent when the Arab-Israeli shooting started in June. Commission raised it slightly — to 35.9 per cent — in mid-June, retroactive to June 1, and on July 1 announced the 42.9 per cent order.

August allowable is due to be set this week.

Since the percentage factor was first used in 1963, the 37.5 per cent-of-potential production was the highest adjustment used until the present Middle East crisis disrupted.

In addition to the major effect on the state's general economy, a steadily climbing allowable appears likely to increase Texas' governmental tax income substantially. It has been estimated that the July 1 order would mean a $53,617 a day increase in state tax income — or a total of $1,600,000 through this month. Obviously, the increase now will be greater.

If the crisis continues for several months, the added income will be a major factor in shaping special session tax needs next year.

Meanwhile, Chairman Jim C. Langdon emphasized that the Commission is determined to avoid repetition of the situation that followed the Suez emergency when oil industry suffered for two and a half years working off surplus stocks which piled up as a result of the big allowable boost a decade ago.

AG OPINIONS — State can pay for telephones and rent electric typewriters for use by legislators in their home district offices, Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin has ruled. In other opinions, Martin concluded that: New law reorganizing Texas National Guard Armory Board and extending terms of members to six years is constitutional. Dallas County auditor has authority jointly with the county's hospital administrator to establish and keep accounting procedures for the Dallas hospital district subject to board of manager's approval. Bee County attorney and 36th district attorney must report to district courts and county clerks all their collections of public funds (or file negative reports if they have received none).

FARM MARKET EXPANSION — Agriculture Commission John White announced the initiation of what he called "the most aggressive market expansion campaign in the history of Texas agriculture."

White said the marketing drive will include efforts to present the true quality image of all Texas food and fiber products as well as specific programs to bolster markets for Texas-produced and processed commodities.

HURRICANE "WARNINGS" OUT — The 1967 hurricane season has arrived and coastal residents had better not forget it, warns Department of Public Safety Director Col. Homer Garrison Jr.

Pamphlets on hurricane precautions are being distributed to local civil defense offices in coastal counties.

Garrison said too many people "develop a false sense of security" after small hurricane experience or having been "on the fringes" of a major storm, and this attitude can be fatal.

Three major hurricanes have hit the Texas coast this century, including Carla in 1961.

Tires For Targets—

An old tire makes a good archery target. Stuff rags or straw between pieces of cardboard fitted between the tire openings. Prop up the tire with a stick in the back, or if you want a moving target, let it roll down a slope.

Frees Frozen Ferrules—

Here's an easy way to free stuck rod ferrules.

Heat the ferrules, then put on a few drops of penetrating rust solvent. Heat will create a vacuum that will cause the solvent to work its way between the frozen parts.

Then the ferrules can be pulled apart.

Beeswax Cleans Lead

If you cast your own bullets, be sure the lead is free of impurities.

You can be sure the lead is clean by putting a small piece of beeswax in with the melted metal. Melted wax will float the foreign matter to the surface of the pot.

Reduce vibration in your Cuts Motor Vibration—outboard by placing a mat between the outboard motor clamps and the boat transom.

You can get the necessary material free from a carpeting house.

Scraps of carpeting with rubberized backing make the best mounts.

OIL PIPELINES SHOW BIG GROWTH

The total length of the oil pipelines in the United States — estimated at more than 213,000 miles — could encircle the earth more than eight times, Oil Facts reports.

This vast underground network, serving every state but Hawaii, has grown in the past 100 years from a five-mile line in Pennsylvania.

A Harvard University professor recently pointed out that this growth is "uniquely the product of private initiative and capital," the American Petroleum Institute Publication says.

Dr. Arthur M. Johnson of Harvard's Graduate School of Business Administration said that no peace-time pipeline project since 1865 has required direct government financial support.

FILM RECORDS DRILLING WORK

To determine what happens when a drill bit meets rock thousands of feet beneath the earth, oilmen simulate the process in their laboratories and capture the action on high-speed film.

This knowledge enables oilmen to select the most efficient bit for a particular kind of work.

Tractor Roll Bars Being Urged During Farm, Ranch Safety Week

Protective frames or crush-resistant cabs to guard tractor operators in roll-over accidents should be standard equipment on all farm tractors.

According to Joe L. Smetana of Waco, Vice President for Farm and Ranch Safety for the Texas Safety Association, tractor overturn accidents in the United States kill more than 500 farm workers each year.

"And such deaths are likely to continue unless operators are equipped with basic operator overturn protection," Smetana said.

He explained there is considerable evidence that protective frames have the potential to sharply reduce the severity of injuries to operators. A protective frame, in most cases, will prevent a tractor from rolling more than 90 degrees.

"Even if the tractor rolls all the way over," he added, "the protective frame, similar to the roll bar in a race car, is strong enough to support the tractor's weight."

Smetana also cited that a study by the University of California indicates that it takes less than two seconds for a tractor to tip. When it reaches the point of no return, only seven-tenths of a second is needed to complete the rollover.

"The chance of a man jumping to safety at this time is very remote," he said.

The use of a seat belt is recommended along with the protective frame to provide added protection by keeping the operator in the seat during an upset.

Protective frames for agricultural tractors are now available on some recent production models, and all tractor makers are expected to offer them soon.

Smetana, who is also President of the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council and Safety Director for the Texas Farm Bureau, is spearheading statewide farm safety activities being held in observance of National Farm Safety Week, July 23-29.

Both President Lyndon B.

Johnson and Governor John Connally have dedicated the week to rural accident prevention.

Purpose of the observance is to call attention to the need to prevent farm accidents, hazards around rural residences, and to encourage farmers to take steps to correct hazardous conditions and practices.

Smetana noted that each year some 8,000 rural residents are killed by accidents and that another 750,000 suffer disabling injuries. The cost to the economic loss to the nation is some $2 billion.

OIL RECOVERY MORE PROFITABLE

Oilmen have developed improved recovery techniques that are expected to add billions of barrels to the nation's reserves of crude oil.

The American Petroleum Institute explains that a few decades ago, oil producers were able to recover only 20 per cent of the oil discovered in underground rock formations. The rest remained locked deep in the earth. Today, modern technology makes possible the recovery of as much as 85 per cent of the oil in some areas.

PETROLEUM PRICES DECREASE SHOWN

Oil Facts reports that while most prices have risen in the past decade, petroleum prices have decreased.

The wholesale price index for all commodities has increased 6.5 percent since 1957. Wholesale petroleum prices include the following items: crude oil down four per cent; gasoline down 6.3 per cent; and light fuel oils down 9.2 per cent.

OIL COMPANIES AIDING EDUCATION

U. S. oil companies are playing an increasingly important role in corporate aid to education.

Figures from the Council for Financial Aid to Education show that during the period from 1956 to 1962 a group of 16 petroleum companies surveyed increased their annual gifts to education from a little over $5 million to more than $10 million — a gain of 92 per cent.
